Meat gets the lunar treatment 27th July 2009

A growing farming movement claims to produce better meat by bringing together the power of the moon and planets.

The cosmic methods don't just apply to the animals' diet. The sheep, cattle and Tamworth pigs at Heritage Prime's Dorset farm are never treated with any chemicals or pharmaceutical medicines. Instead, they are given homeopathic remedies tailored for each species to help them meet the many challenges of the changing seasons.

A cancerous conspiracy to poison your faith in organic food 31st July 2009

The food industry, in alliance with pharmaceutical and big biotechnology companies, has waged a long, often cynical campaign to convince the public that mass-produced, chemically-assisted and intensively-farmed products are just as good as organic foods, despite mounting evidence to the contrary.

SIGN THIS IMPORTANT PETITION BELOW, THANK YOU

We the undersigned petition the Prime Minister to oppose the adoption of the Codex Alimentarius (WHO/UN) proposals for restriction of the presently freely available herb/vitamin/mineral food supplements. Find the healer in your life

In 2002, 31,044 persons participated as a part of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's National Health Interview Survey. Adults were asked about 27 types of common CAM therapies used in the U.S including 10 provider-based therapies and 17 that don't require a provider such as natural products, special diets, herbs and megavitamins. In the 12 months prior to the survey, 62 percent had used CAM services, and at one point that figure was 75 percent. The following groups showed greater CAM use: women, people with higher education, those who had been hospitalized in the past 12 months and former smokers.
