Save Homeopathy in the UK

26th December 2009

Use the Indian model The MPs should study the rules and regulations of the CCH, India, and make use of the experience of this organization to help streamline the practice of homeopathy in UK and also prove to the world (and themselves!) that it has a scientific basis.

Hahnemann's Approach to Medical Problems

by Peter Morrell - 26th December 2009

Once he had realised the superior path of using small doses of single drugs based on similars, he never ceased until his dying day of improving the methods of preparing and administering such drugs. So we see his desire to improve his clinical methods repeatedly and unceasingly exemplified in his life's work.

Sugar May Be Bad, But This Sweetener Is Far More Deadly (Mercola)

January 02 2010

Fructose, a sweetener usually derived from corn, can cause dangerous growths of fat cells around vital organs and is able to trigger the early stages of diabetes and heart disease. Nearly all corn syrup is made from genetically modified corn, which comes with its own set of risks.
