SWINE FLU Remedies from Helios Homoeopathic Pharmacy

British exodus from Mexico as battle against virus intensifies 29 April 2009

Meanwhile, Helios Homoeopathy, a British homeopathy company, has responded to interest in its products by posting a link on their website recommending remedies.

A list of homeopathic cures detailed symptoms and encouraged sufferers to see if their own matched up. "Constitutional treatment is the best way for anyone to strengthen the immune system," it states. The Helios managing director, John Morgan, said: "We're simply responding to the huge number of calls received. We've not had independent trials to see whether these remedies work for Swine flu. But we're not saying they are a cure; we're simply saying they will help the body respond to the virus." <http://www.independent.co.uk/life-style/health-and-wellbeing/health-news/british-exodus-from-mexico-as-battle-against-virus-intensifies-1675811.html>

Flu's and Homeopathy

In 1998 the French Society of Homeopathy conducted a survey of 23 homeopathic doctors concerning their use of Influenzinum as a flu preventive (Coulamy, 1998). The survey included use of Influenzinum over a 10 year period (1987-1998) in 453 patients. Results of the survey were remarkable. In approximately 90% of the cases no instances of the flu occurred when Influenzinum was used preventively no matter what the dosage protocol. <http://www.homeopathy-natural-cure.ca/flus-and-homeopathy>
