Science....

Luc Montagnier Foundation Proves Homeopathy Works

In a recent paper, Nobel Prize winner, Luc Montagnier, and his team report the results of a series of rigorous experiments investigating the electromagnetic (EM) properties of highly diluted biological samples. <http://avilian.co.uk/2009/09/luc-montagnier-foundation-proves-homeopathy-works/>

Scientific Research: Overview

There are literally thousands of published scientific research studies which are statistically significant in favour of homeopathy, with more papers being published all the time. Here are a few hundred or so of the research papers and studies that scientifically prove homeopathy works (more added all the time - Sue Young): <http://avilian.co.uk/2008/08/scientific-research-and-homeopathy-overview/>

Homeopathy proves successful in tackling feather pecking (Farmers Weekly) 7/09/2009

Crossgates Bioenergetics was set up a decade ago by Julie Dodgson, a farmer's wife who turned to alternative remedies, after conventional treatments failed to alleviate her symptoms during a bout of ill health.

Convinced of the potential for using homeopathic remedies to prevent and treat a range of ailments, she started by offering a service for farm livestock. The business now employs 16 staff and has since extended its client list, to include human remedies and treatments for administration by horse and dog owners.
